TREASURE HUNTERS FIND SUNKEN SHIP WITH GOLD, JEWELS

New York — Treasure hunters who left New York early this month to recover gold, silver, copper and jewels which were down with the steamship Merida off the Virginia Capes in 1911, have been successful in the first phase of the expedition. The sunken ship has been located. Divers now will be sent down after the treasure the value of which is estimated at $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

The trawlers Foam and Spray dragged the waters in the vicinity where the Merida sank, with a mile long iron sweep. Then days after the work began, the sunken ship was discovered.

LAWMAKERS TRIED TO BLOCK CUT IN SUGAR, DUTY, BOB

Senator Smoot Replies to Charges Made by LaFollette at Baltimore

Washington, D. C.—Senator LaFollette, in Baltimore, Monday night charged that Vice Chairman C. Bennett of the tariff commission had been invited to the office of Mr. Smoot and there had found a group interested in sugar duties. He also charged that members of congress had tried to coerce the commission to prevent a reduction in sugar duties.

The meeting in his office, Senator Smoot said, was altogether above board and was arranged for the purpose of presenting pertinent facts in connection with the sugar situation. "This is a fight," he said, "between the sugar refiners of America known generally as the sugar trust, and the producers of sugar in America."

"The meeting referred to by Mr. LaFollette took place last evening in Baltimore was arranged in the following manner:

"The representatives of the American producers of sugar complained to me that the tariff commission in arriving at the cost of producing sugar in Cuba as compared with the cost in the United States, did not confine itself to obtaining the latest available figures of cost but based the same on the average cost over a period from 1917 to 1923, which embraced a period of most violent fluctuations in wages, land values and prices, and also carried years before the provision of law granting the president the power to increase or decrease the tariff rates. Again it was plain that the commission ignored the agricultural costs in producing cane except in the case of Hawaii.

"The commission secured the costs of producing beets in the United States but refused to use that cost in determining the cost of production of beet sugar and substituted therefor a price based upon their return for the sale of the sugar."

SOCIAL WHIRL CLAIMS RETURNED ARMY ACES

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—The world fliers who returned their globe girdling planes to San Diego Monday were back in Los Angeles Tuesday with a week of social activities ahead of them as well as the more serious task of writing a "Speakers' report" of the historic round the world flight.

Six civic organizations will unite to honor the aviators at a banquet Tuesday and the succeeding days until Sunday will be crowded with other events arranged for their entertainment.

Charge G.O.P. Seeks To Kill Votes Of Vets

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—LaFollette Wheeler Headquarters Tuesday made public a telegram to President Coolidge from John J. Hamilton and Harvey E. Garman, two of its California campaign officials, charging that Republican managers in that state were attempting to disfranchise soldiers in veterans' homes.

Asking the president to check the alleged tactics of his supporters, the telegram stated that veterans had been shifted from precinct to precinct in such a way that they would be prevented from voting in places where they had registered after fulfilling residence requirements.

LaFollette has had difficulty getting a chance to address soldiers," it was added, "but Coolidge campaigners have had free access to them at all times."

Violent Disturbances Mark Campaign on Eve of British Elections

POLITICAL TEMPER HOT

Premier MacDonald Forced to Take His Bed Because of Exhaustion

By Associated Press
London—Tuesday, the last day of the election campaign, is being devoted to intensified canvasses and torrents of speeches by all the parties. Political tempers have been growing steadily hotter and show no sign of cooling.

Several meetings Tuesday night were marked by violent disturbances and the police in some instances were called. The worst disturbance occurred outside a meeting hall in Battersea where a furious blow aimed at the Conservative candidate, Viscount Curzon, missed him but felled a companion unconscious. The tires were ripped from Lord Curzon's automobile and the lamps were smashed.

The Russian affair growing out of publication by the foreign office of the alleged Zinovieff letter to the British Communist party, has served to heighten the feuds, but there is nothing to show whether or not it will have a damaging effect on Labor's chances. The London newspapers, with the exception of the Laborite Daily Herald, comment scorchingly on Premier MacDonald's platform references to the Russian incident, the chief of several charges being that the premier himself blundered colorfully in handling the matter and now seeks to throw the blame on his subordinates.

MAKE FINAL EFFORT

All of the political parties and leaders are beating the big drum Tuesday in a last minute effort to arouse their supporters and it is stated that the Labor, Conservative and Liberal spokesmen, in addresses which Tuesday were reaching their crescendo in intensity, were hoping to reach the 5,000,000 electors who failed to record votes at the last election.

The most interesting feature of the day's campaigning is the aberrant tour of the prime minister whom fatigue forced to take to bed Tuesday afternoon. Former Premier Baldwin, leader of the Conservatives, is making a lightning tour of Lancashire in which he is utilizing a fleet of motor cars, making speeches from improvised platforms and receiving an enthusiastic reception as he promises a thorough investigation into the high cost of living as well as utilizing the usual Conservative political arguments.

Former Premier Asquith, Liberal leader, is remaining at Farnham, where he is expected to have a hard fight for his seat while former Premier Lloyd George has gone to his own constituency for a final chat with his supporters.

Hunt, it was stated, are C. L. Richards, Belleville, the Rev. Atchison, Poynette, and the Rev. Caldwell, Madison, members of the Presbyterian denomination.

WIFE WITHDRAWS SUIT AFTER SLAYING ATTEMPT

NUTMEG STATE IS STRONG FOR G. O. P., CLAIM

Democratic Party Loses Many Votes to LaFollette as Protest

AL SMITH MIGHT HAVE WON

Coolidge Majority May Not Be as Large as That for Harding, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.
Hartford, Conn.—Out west, state after state showed a distinct friendliness to the McDoom cause and Democratic leaders said if he had been nominated, the Democratic party would not be third. Here in Connecticut is the other side of the story. Had Al Smith been nominated this would have been a doubtful state.

The Democracy of Connecticut is not exactly shirking its task. That would imply something deliberate. Far from it. The Democrats of Connecticut have been disheartened and while the leaders and organization workers are laboring to poll a good Democratic vote, for it has a bearing on future campaigns, the rank and file are dividing as between LaFollette and Coolidge.

The conservative Democrats are turning to the latter because they cannot swallow Bryan on the vice presidential end of the national ticket. Other Democrats, especially from the ranks of labor, are planning to vote for LaFollette as a protest.

Opinions vary as to the probable size of the LaFollette vote in this state but most of it will come from the Democratic party anyhow. So far as affecting the result the figures will have only an academic value.

STRONGER THAN COX

Talking with some well informed persons from Waterbury, a Democratic stronghold, the writer was assured that Davis would run stronger than Cox did four years ago. This might still be true and yet the total in the state be less than Cox had. Comparisons between the Cox and Davis votes will be difficult to make for the temptation is to add the LaFollette and Davis vote together to get an idea of what the non-Coolidge vote really is, but one cannot be sure how many Republicans, especially among the workmen, will have voted for LaFollette.

The Democrats have not much hope of carrying through even the state ticket and it is suggested here and there that nominations were made perfunctorily and without confidence that much could be accomplished. The Democrats are, nevertheless, getting interested in the outcome of the special election on Dec. 16, at which a successor to the late Senator Brandegee will be chosen. Republican organization leaders are at odds with Governor Tompkins, a Republican, for calling the election as they had hoped to dictate a choice after the legislature had been convened. A Republican can be expected to win the special election unless the schism in the Republican ranks leads to the nomination of someone who will alienate the independent vote of the state.

WON'T PUT DAIRY IN RESIDENCE ZONE

Peterson and Wilhams Withdraw Request and Hearing Is Canceled

Withdrawal of the zoning ordinance amendment which would permit the erection of a creamery on Second avenue by Andrew Peterson and W. C. Wilhams caused the public hearing planned for Monday evening in the city hall to be canceled.

Theodore Berg, acting as attorney for the applicants for amendment, announced that the men have made other plans concerning the building they wish to erect. The proposal they had in mind was to have property on Second-ave west of Richmond st. transferred to the light manufacturing district. The zoning committee disapproved the change and the property owners were practically unanimous against the move, and the idea therefore was abandoned.

As soon as the hearing was called to order by Alderman George T. Rich, chairman of the ordinance committee, announcement was made concerning the decision of the applicants and the withdrawal of the ordinance.

Three or four persons were present for the meeting and a petition of protest signed by numbers of property owners was submitted.

TAX PUBLICITY ILLEGAL, STONE

Attorney General Issues Statement Regarding Law After Cabinet Meeting

Washington, D. C.—After a meeting Tuesday, Attorney General Stone said a general agreement had been reached on the question of publication of income tax returns and indicated that such publication was regarded as in violation of the law.

The attorney general said he would formally declare his position during the afternoon.

No statement was made after the cabinet meeting, Mr. Stone limiting his comment to the remark that he found members in general agreement with him, including Secretary Mellon who has insisted publication of the returns to be illegal.

BADGER NURSES OPEN CONCLAVE

Milwaukee—The fifteenth meeting of the Wisconsin State Nurses association opened here Tuesday with a large attendance. The program led off with a directors meeting, followed by invocation by the Rev. Howard A. New Johnston, Milwaukee.

At the business meeting various reports were heard, including those of the officers, district and committee chairmen, delegates to the national association, convention house club and the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. Douglas W. Swigert, Milwaukee, delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by Agnes W. Reid, president of the organization.

Who Knows Them?

Who had the heart to abandon these babies? Chicago police would like to know. Two elegantly dressed women left them at a day nursery Oct. 3, saying they would call for them later. But the women have not returned. Billy, the youngster on the liddy car, is about 2. Nicky, the little girl, sitting in the lap of Mrs. C. Greenich of the Home for the Friendless, is believed to be a couple months younger. Police of a dozen cities are aiding in the search.

DEATH OF WALLACE POSTPONES PROBE OF FARM CONDITION

Former Governor of Illinois, Lowden, Mentioned as Successor

Washington, D. C.—In view of the death of Secretary Wallace, the investigation of agricultural conditions proposed by President Coolidge now is expected to be held up until he names a new secretary of agriculture. Early action on the appointment of a successor to Mr. Wallace is looked for because of the importance the president attaches to the investigation and the proposed preliminary agricultural conference, but he does not plan to give much consideration to the problem of making a selection before Wednesday, when burial services for the late secretary will be held in Des Moines, Ia.

Among those already mentioned for the office in official circles here are Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; John Lee Coulter, president of the North Dakota Agriculture college and who has been selected to serve on the proposed agriculture commission; and Samuel Adams, publisher and former president of the Agricultural Editors association.

Until Tuesday the president had made no speaking engagements for the final week of the campaign.

PLAN POWER PLANT ON PESHTIGO RIVER

Six of Twelve Conflagrations Started Saturday Now Are Under Control

Milwaukee—The Wisconsin Public Service corporation announced Tuesday that the company had formally applied to the railroad commission for a permit to build a fifth water power plant on the Peshtigo river.

Mr. Pulliam said that the Wisconsin Public Service corporation had purchased a site of about 180 acres at Sandstone Rapids, about three miles north of Crivitz.

Construction work is to be started at once. Purchase of the site and the building of a dam and hydroelectric plant will entail an expenditure of $1,000,000, Mr. Pulliam said.

Mr. Pulliam also announced that the company had purchased the Hydro Electric plant of the Crivitz Pulp and Paper Co., from the Hoberg Paper and Pulp Co., Green Bay. This plant is now used to operate a pulp mill and for a time will continue to be operated as such under a lease to the paper company. The Wisconsin Public Service corporation plans to rebuild and enlarge the plant at some future time.

ITALY CELEBRATES FASCIST BIRTHDAY

Rome—Italy Tuesday celebrated the completion of two years under the Fascist government. Public buildings throughout the kingdom, by order of Premier Mussolini, and thousands of private ones, were flagged in honor of the occasion.

The features of the celebration were the ceremonies consequent upon taking the oath of allegiance to the king by some 250,000 "Black Shirts," most of whom participated in the Fascist march on Rome two years ago and who were later formed into a national militia, becoming an integral part of the nation's armed forces.

Hurl Countercharge At Independents In Slush Fund Inquiry

CHIEF OF GRAY VETS ANSWERS LAST ROLL CALL

General W. B. Haldeman, Soldier and Editor, Stricken With Heart Attack

Louisville, Ky.—There is another gap in the fast thinning ranks of the wearers of the Gray Tuesday. General W. B. Haldeman, commander in chief of the United Confederate veterans, is dead.

General Haldeman was stricken with heart attack at Churchill Downs Monday and died within half an hour. While his sudden death was a distinct shock to relatives, friends and comrades in arms, the distinguished veteran's health had been such as to cause concern. Earlier in the month he was forced to cut short an address before a state meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy in Plankinton. His last public appearance of importance was the occasion of the recitation of what had been one of his fondest dreams. On July 7, last, he presided at exercises at Fairview, Ky., when a huge shaft marking the birth place of Jefferson Davis, Confederate president, was dedicated.

General William Birch Haldeman, a native of Louisville, was born in Louisville, Ky., July 27, 1848, the son of Walter N. Haldeman, founder of the Louisville Courier Journal.

Exiled with his father during the Civil war he fought for the South, but after the war returned to the city of his birth.

Although politics was General Haldeman's chief interest, he repeatedly declined public office, it is said with three exceptions. Through his interest in racing he accepted appointment to the state racing commission, and because of his military service was made adjutant general of Kentucky. The third office was that of Democratic national committeeman in 1904. It was said that he never missed a reunion of Confederate veterans. As commander of the Veterans' Association of the Orphan Brigade and major general in command of the Kentucky division, United Confederate Veterans, he was widely known throughout the South. In recent years he chafed a special car to attend each veteran's reunion, taking from 15 to 30 less fortunate old soldiers along as his guests.

NEW BRUSH FIRES STARTED IN NORTH

Six of Twelve Conflagrations Started Saturday Now Are Under Control

Laona — Renoirs coming in here Tuesday from the fire lines in the eastern part of Forest co. where 30,000 acres of cut-over timber land have been swept by fire which began last Saturday, stated that several new fires had broken out burning the total up to eleven. Six of these are under control. Three of the fires among which six hundred fire fighters are centering their attack are reported to be in valuable hardwood timber holdings. The green timber is reported ablaze. However with practically no wind blowing, the fire caused by spontaneous combustion in a dust heap.

Fifty employees escaped by a back fire pathway.

After an all night questioning by detectives the suspect was lodged in an outlying police station without charge for further investigation.

Death Claims Albert Loeb, Slayer's Dad

By Associated Press

Chicago—Albert Henry Loeb, first vice president of Sears, Roebuck and Co. father of Richard Loeb, co-murderer with Nathan Leopold of Robert Franks died at his home here Monday night after a long illness. Members of the family and physicians said his death was not hastened by the trial and conviction of his son now serving a life sentence in Joliet penitentiary. Whether the son would attend the funeral was considered doubtful, for although the prison authorities always permit prisoners to attend funerals of near relatives the crowds of curious that would gather made it likely no application would be made.

Mr. Loeb last saw his son May 28 when he was arrested at the Loeb home. The father was stricken May 13 three days before the killing. During the trial Mr. Loeb was taken to the family summer home at Chautauque, Mich., where he remained until a fortnight ago.

BLAINE COMES BACK AT LUECK IN CREAM CITY

Governor Charges Rival Dragged Judicial Robe in Mud During War

By Associated Press
Milwaukee — Governor John J. Elmer, candidate for reelection here for departing for Minnesota where he is scheduled to make several addresses in the interest of the LaFollette Wheeler campaign took notice of statements by Martin L. Lueck, Democratic candidate for governor, that the constitutional liberties of the people are being menaced by LaFollette Progressives.

"We do not forget that my opponent as Judge of the circuit court took an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and the State of Wisconsin and that he dragged the judicial ermine in the mud by joining and leading a riot to prevent free speech and free assembly during the war."

"While doing so he occupied the same platform with the former president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association and war profiteers, in denouncing loyal citizens of his home country. It is claimed, however, that the judge showed excellent taste in resigning his judicial office rather than face another election before an outraged constituency."

"It may add that the Republican state platform particularly specifies support of the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of press and freedom of religious worship, all of which I heartily approve and have on every occasion defended."

Ira S. Lorenz, state chairman of the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign committee, seconded Governor Elmer's state ment.

Before his death, Mr. McSweeney became so violent that he was placed in a straight jacket. Some of the other victims also were affected in the same way. Voters who were not yet registered were permitted to appear personally to have their names entered on the registry lists. The precinct stations are open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night. The registry lists will be posted before election day.

POLICE ARREST BURGLAR SUSPECT BUT HE HAS ALIBI

Finger Prints May Aid in Finding Man Who Burglarized Five Places

Police who are investigating the series of burglaries committed Sunday night at the offices of the Standard Oil company, Ideal Lumber and Coal company, Appleton Marble and Granite works, Potts-Wood company creamery, and Woels Brothers wholesale paper house, believed they had hit upon a valuable clue Monday and arrested a suspect.

Although the young man has a police record including several burglaries and although he has been in the habit of staying away frequently from his home, he seems to have accounted for his activities Sunday night as to satisfy the police he is not the man wanted. He had been in the habit of sleeping in box cars and shows a disinclination to work, but he was able to produce an alibi.

At the Standard Oil company office on the morning after the burglary a chisel which appeared to be a stone chisel and might have been taken from the Appleton Marble and Granite works was found. Finger print reproductions were made by Sergeant James Moore in the police effort to trace the man responsible for the thefts.

Alden Behnke, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Behnke, 437 Eldorado-st., a sophomore, is one of three Lawrence students trying for the Rhodes scholarship this year. The requirements for this honor include all-around leadership and good scholarship.

Mr. Behnke was valedictorian of the 1923 graduating class at Appleton high school and in his first year at Lawrence excelled in debate. He spent the past summer in Europe as one of the fifty representative DeMolays of this country. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Two other members of this fraternity, Roger Collinge of Hartford, and Harry Snyder of Farmington, Minn., are trying for the prize. Mr. Collinge was a senior, has been prominent in class and fraternity affairs and has been a member of the college basketball team for the last three years. In his sophomore year he served as class president and last year as president of Mace, mens honorary fraternity.

Mr. Snyder, a sophomore, was a member of last year's track squad. Keevil Larson of Neenah, the last Rhodes scholar from Lawrence, is also a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Lawrence has furnished three Rhodes scholars in Wisconsin's history. Those who received the honor in the past are A. E. Rollin, '04; E. F. Hooten, '07, and Larson, '20. Prof. W. F. Raney of the history department of the college also is a former Rhodes scholar.

One candidate will be selected in Wisconsin this year to begin his scholastic duties at Oxford, England, in October, 1925. The course is three years with an income of $1,700 a year.

CECIL SPOONER ALMOST TAKES TRIP TO MARS

Those who witness a showing of "The Love Bandit," at the New Bijou theatre Wednesday (Thursday), will be impressed by the realism in the sequence in which French Annie, played by Lorenza Valentine, and Madge Dempsey, played by Cecil Spooner, have a hand to hand fight. There is hair pulling, a struggle and then Miss Valentine uses Miss Spooner as a hammer, knocking her senseless.

In making the sequence it was difficult to put the proper life into the action and the director tried every incentive he could to get the proper spirit. Then in the tussle Miss Spooner accidentally stuck her finger in Miss Valentine's eye. The latter, to retaliate, took an extra hard yank at Miss Spooner's hair and the realism started. Each tried to get the better of the other and things were going splendidly when, somehow, no one knows just how, Miss Spooner hit her head on the metal footboard of a bed and lost consciousness for a few seconds.

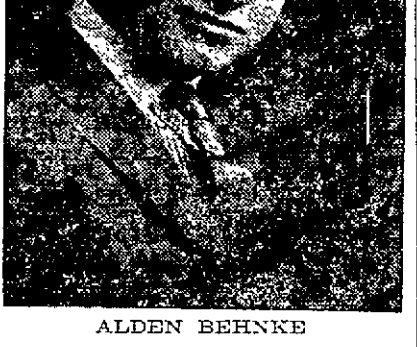

It all happened so quickly and was so in keeping with the action that no one realized Miss Spooner had been completely knocked out until she told the company afterward.

"SILENT WATCHER" IS SCREEN

Frank Lloyd has at last had opportunity to demonstrate his thought that, as he recently told an interviewer, "the motion picture must be given a soul; spiritual improvement, rather than mechanical."

"The Silent Watcher," with Glenn Hunter and Emma Leve, Mr. Lloyd's latest First National picture, was shown for the first time at the Elite Theatre yesterday, and as we have seen few pictures with as many delicate, impressive touches; such beautiful sentimental expression or such finesse in acting and direction. There is no tinsel or make believe in "The

A. A. L. WANTS ENDOWMENT LAW IN STATE OF IOWA

Legislation favorable to endowment insurance will be urged of the Iowa Fraternal congress in session this week by G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, who left for Des Moines Monday noon.

Iowa will not permit fraternal insurance organizations to write endowment policies that mature sooner than the ages of 60 or 65. The insurance commissioner has prepared a list of regulations that he will submit to the legislature but omitted this clause. The conference will consider measures to have it enacted, Mr. Ziegler says.

SECOND DISTRICT PUPILS ARE GIVEN READING TESTS

The Thorndike McCall reading tests are now being given in schools of the Second district. The tests have been given to 100,000 persons up to the present time to standardize them. They are tests of comprehension rather than tests of speed, and since they are given to the pupils several times a year, the teacher can tell by comparison how the pupils have progressed and what remedies must be used.

NEW METHOD HEALS RUPTURE

Kansas City Doctor's Discovery Makes Truss or Operation Unnecessary

Kansas City, Mo.—(Special) — A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of Dr. Andrews, the well known Hernia specialist of this city. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it heals and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of the Post-Crescent who writes him at his office, 7461 Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today. adv.

RECALL APPLETON AS ELECTRIC CITY

Industry Celebrate Anniversary of Invention of Electric Lights

Appleton was under the spotlight last week in the electrical world. While the industry was observing the forty-fifth anniversary of Thomas Edison's invention of the incandescent electric lamp, which he himself considers the foundation for the entire electrical industry, it was recalled that the first hydro-electrical station in the world was placed in operation at Appleton in 1882.

From Edison's electric lamp developed the great central station industry of which the Appleton plant was the forerunner. The central station industry of the world now supplies 18,710,000 customers, and the entire property value of the electrical industry exceeds $3,800,000,000.

The Appleton plant had in its infancy only five customers receiving current over a distance of one mile. A. C. Langstadt, Appleton, who was connected with the first station, says that lamps cost $1.60 a piece and that the cost of the current was 20 cents a kilowatt hour, when consumers were fortunate enough to get it. The lamps those days cost four times more than they do now and current more than twice as much as is paid today. Through improvements in lamps and power stations, $1 now buys 16 times as much light as it bought in 1882. In fact, cost of electricity is the only item in the cost of living statistics which shows a decrease since 1913.

Edison's first lamp consumed 100 watts of electricity and gave a 16 candlepower ray. Lamps in motion picture studios now require 30,000 watts and give 60,000 candlepower light. It's a far cry—over 7,000 years—from the torches of the Egyptians down through the ages of grease soaked rushes, candles, ancient oil lamps, lamps with glass chimneys, gas light, petroleum lighting, incandescent electric lamp, incandescent gas mantle, electric lamps with carbon filament, tungsten filament lamp, gas-

FINISH YEAR'S WORK ON HYDRANT INSTALLATION

Employees of the Appleton water department have completed the installation of 15 new hydrants used to replace others of a smaller size in the business district. In most instances it was necessary to tear up the sidewalk and recement it. The old hydrants were considered too small to give ample fire protection for the business district. The replacement work was done in the area between Union and Appleton-sts. Next year the department hopes to complete the work and install about the same number as far as Locust-st.

CHIEFS UNITE IN BONFIRE WARNING

Chief G. P. McGillan of the fire department and Chief George T. Prim of the police department have united in a warning against careless building of bonfires in Appleton. The police chief called attention to the fact that a city ordinance prohibits the building of bonfires on streets. The practice not only causes damage to streets, especially asphalt pavements, but also is a menace to automobile fires.

Bonfires of all kinds and under any circumstances are discouraged by Chief McGillan. Every bonfire built, more than twice as much as is paid to start a fire any time where there are shingle roofs in the neighborhood. But since the practice persists, the chief warned against building the rubbish fires close to buildings and advised that adults and not children watch the fires and remain there until the last spark or ember is extinguished. It is much safer, he said, to cart fallen leaves away.

The Misses Mabel Kriegel, Viola Buntrock, Ada Krueger and Caroline Miller returned Sunday from a visit to Wittenberg.

filled lamp, to the present use of incandescent electric light with tungsten filament in a high state of perfection.

400 ATTEND FIRST MOVIE AT CHURCH

"The Highest Law" Will Be Shown Next Sunday at Congregational Service

Approximately 400 people attended the first of the new series of evening services at the First Congregational church when motion pictures were used to amplify the sermon by Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor.

Plans are being made for the next one by the Young Married Peoples group, which has charge of arrangements. The picture will be "The Highest Law," having in it a patriotic message which is appropriate to the Sunday before election.

Sunday night a meeting accomplished the purpose the church had in mind, that of leading a service of a strictly devotional nature with the picture as an aid. Dr. Peabody preached on, "If Jesus Should Come to Your House," and the noted drama "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" then was filmed, the moral of the play having a direct bearing on the words of the pastor.

An improvement was accomplished in projection of the pictures by the

EXPECT NEW RECORD IN HUNTING LICENSE SALES

Close of the partridge season has had a slackening effect upon the sale of hunting licenses in the county clerk's office. During the week before the opening of the season, approximately 350 to 400 licenses were sold. The approach of the deer hunting season is expected to increase the sales at the beginning of next month. The deer season opens Nov. 13 and closes Nov. 22.

Although last year recorded the largest sale of hunting licenses for more than five years, this year's sales is expected to go even beyond that. The total has already reached 3,000 whereas the entire number sold last year was about 2,700.

But few non-resident hunting licenses have been disposed of this year. While the resident licenses require only a $1 fee, the non-resident permits require $25, for small game and fowl and $50 for big game.

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO PAULA PERDER, CONTINUED

Right here I'm going to betray Jack a little and tell you that he sent that beautiful letter of yours to him, to me. My dear girl, I knew that generosity of mind and soul was always a part of you. You tell the truth when you say that Leslie is the loveliest woman either you or Jack have ever known. She is the loveliest woman I have ever known, and I am very glad you wrote that sentence to him which called attention to the fact that he probably thought he could not make her unhappy because he was fonder of her than of any woman in the world.

I've often wondered, Paula, just why the state of a man's feelings, if he conceals that state, should be supposed to make a woman happy. Somewhere some woman novelist has said: "A man can love a woman to distraction and be untrue to her every week." Some way I don't think that the loved woman could be happy if she lived with a man of this kind, do you?

Paula, dear, I'm very glad to have known both you and Leslie—women capable of the great giving, the great sacrifice—for there are those, who give when it is no sacrifice to them, you know.

After I read that letter of yours to Jack, I had a greater reverence, respect and regard for women than I have ever had before. The very reticence and reserve with which you two women proffered to each other a friendship is beautiful beyond words. No one but a big woman could have done that which either of you women did. Joan Alden Prescott is blessed far beyond his deserts.

I'm still rather bungled up from that automobile smash-up, and as I have never made the Prescotts a visit since their marriage, I'm going down to stay at the club for a couple of weeks over their third anniversary.

By the way, do you remember those little coral gods that we bought of that funny old Chinaman one day last summer, and the interesting legend he told us? I wish you would look around and see if you could find another pair. Don't make a particular hunt for them, but if you come across a pair I would like them very much. When I come out there I shall try a still hunt for another pair myself.

Of course, I don't believe one word of the legend, and I may as well tell you that I have separated the gods. Up to date, I have had no particular discomfort, neither do I think the person to whom I sent the other has been unhappy. It's rather a ridiculous idea, isn't it, to try the experiment of seeing if there is anything in the old legend, on one of your friends?

I'm going to close this letter now.

ECZEMA ON FEET AND HANDS

Could Not Walk. Itched Badly. Cuticura Heals.

"Eczema first broke out on the backs of my hands and ankles in little pimples that had water in them. Later the pimples would break open, swell up and turn red. My feet were so sore that I could not walk, and I had to keep them up in a chair. It itched badly, and the trouble lasted about three months."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, I was healed." (Signed) Miss Anna Springer, R. F. D. 1, Mendota, Mo., May 7, 1924.

SUFFERED PAIN

Howard Lake, Minn.—"I write to let you know that I have taken several bottles of your medicine in the last three months, and found it to be very good."

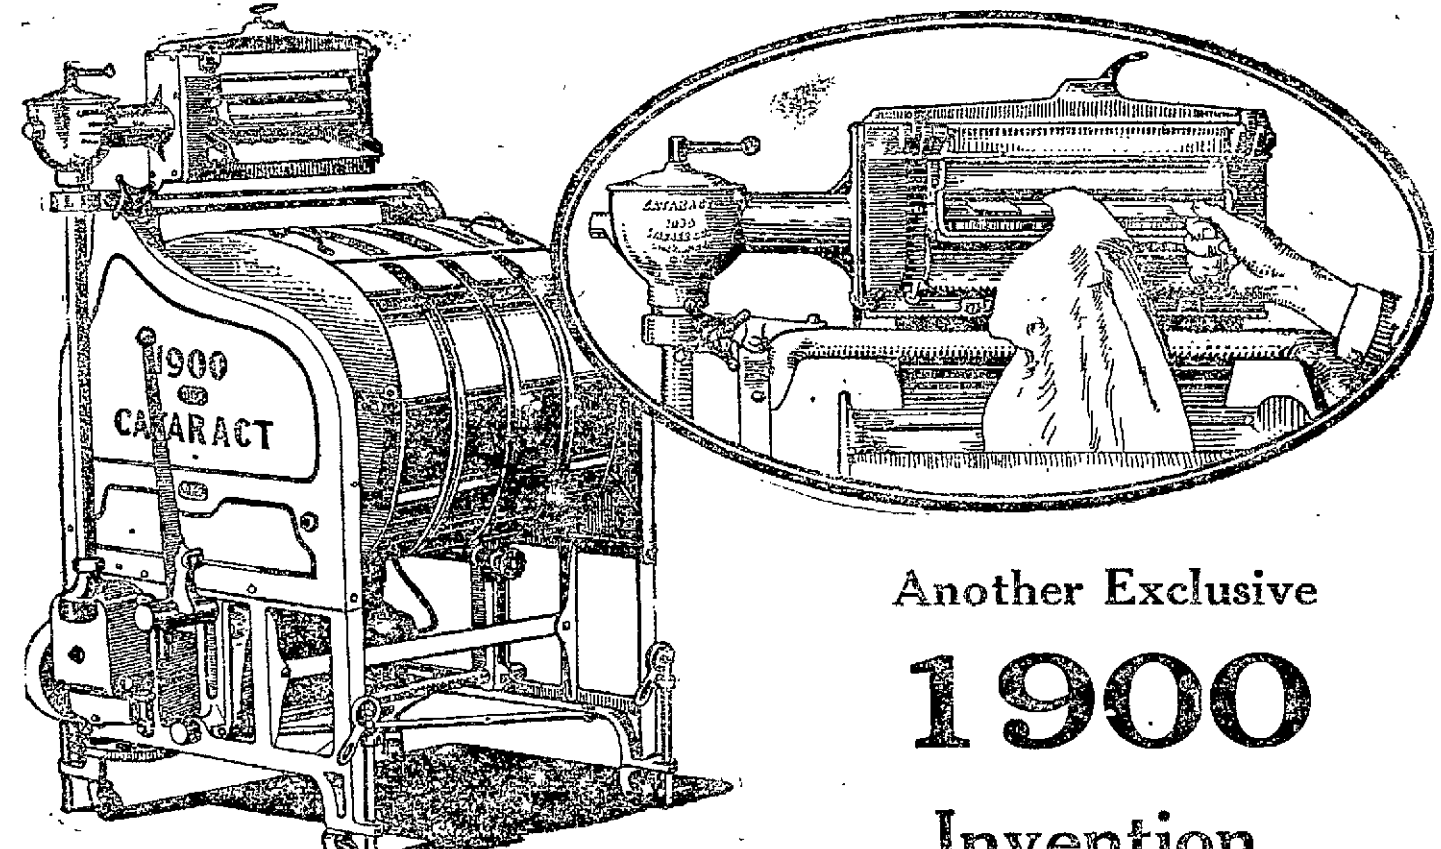

I had pains and other troubles women have and was not able to do my work. Seeing your "Ad." in the paper, I thought of giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. New Safety Wringer

Another Exclusive
Invention

The Safest and Easiest Way to Wash the Most Clothes Cleanest in the Least Time.

Way back in 1898 when the first 1900 Washer was put on the market—it gave the world the first swing-tub washer ever built—eliminating wear on the clothes from moving parts in the tub, and saving the woman lifting out and cleaning out these parts.

That principle of cleaning clothes has been often imitated, but the secret of the success of the 1900 Cataract Washer principle is patented. The entire tub moves forward and back seven inches from center, which is equal to adding seven inches to each end of the 28-inch tub, which when tipped at an angle of 45 degrees, permits the clothes and water, of their own weight, to fall the full distance of the tub, giving a greater water action, due to the natural law of gravity—a falling body gathers momentum as it falls—the further it falls the greater the water action, and water action is what cleans.

That is Why
The 1900 Cataract Washer

was given the Gold Medal by national judges, and First Place by the largest Electric Light Companies in the North and Southwest.

And why it leads in sales in Wisconsin where the majority of housewives who do their own work know what they want.

So Much for the Remarkable Washer--
Now the New Safety Wringer and Double Gas Heater

No Pressure Screws—the pressure is automatically adjusted to wring thoroughly, thick or thin pieces—or even both at the same time.

When release is tripped, the power is automatically cut off from both rolls—and both rolls stop instantly, leaving a large working space between the rolls. No loose parts to fall out. No thumb screws to adjust. Rust-proof metal frame. Medium soft Para rubber rolls to prevent possibility of breaking buttons or fasteners.

The Double Gas Heater

is another exclusive feature, heating 16 gallons of water to the boiling point in 27 minutes. The most efficient way to heat water, by direct application of the heat at the bottom of the copper tub—which like the copper wash boiler, is the cheapest in the long run, as it is the only metal that withstands the chemical action of hot water and soap—there will be no gummy, grayish deposit form on the inside of the tub—it is easier to clean—easier to keep clean—prevents soiling.

$15 for your old Electric Washer of any make or type

$10 for your old Water Power Washer

$7.50 for your old Hand Wringer or Hand Power

Free trial in your own home—in your own way

COUNCIL RESENTS WITHDRAWAL OF
SOO LINE SHOPS

Reduction of Expenses Is Reason for Abandoning Roundhouse, Official Says

Menasha—Reduction of expenses is the reason assigned for the Soo line discontinuing its train and bus service to Menasha and for its proposed removal of the roundhouse to Neenah. This was the contention of Arthur Wilson, an official of the Soo line at an informal meeting of the council Monday night at which the matter was discussed and at times the arguments were quite spirited. The aldermen contend that the railway company has not given the city a square deal in removing its train and bus service and in eliminating Menasha from its time tables and in the proposed removal of the roundhouse which would effect a considerable number of families and made it clear to the official that they resented it. They made it clear also they wanted nothing new, simply the resumption of the former service and the continuance of the roundhouse in Menasha.

Mr. Wilson said his company was reducing its expenses wherever it could and that it was impossible for it to continue the service here or operate two roundhouses. He was reminded that his company was given more than $1,000,000 worth of shipping last year by Menasha manufacturers and that at the time the Wisconsin Central road, now the Soo line, entered Menasha the city bonded itself for $150,000.

For grown-ups they are just as wonderful—one woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks, 60 tablets 60 cents and if they don't put 5 pounds of good firm flesh on any thin man or woman in 30 days, get your money back.

For Program

About 65 seniors and juniors gathered in Mt. Olive Lutheran church Monday evening and witnessed the presentation of a charming little play, called "A Case in Suspension." The cast included Vera and Anita Thied, Helen Ziegler, Esther Letzow, Viola Schuman, Melvin Knoke, Melvin Poppe, Victor Wein-koff, Harold Hammer and Howard Smith. Herbert Schultz gave a talk about the juniors and their plan of work, and the Rev. E. E. Ziesemer also gave an address. The Jebe trio furnished music for the evening, and games were played after the program.

The Medicine Chest Knows!

"My hinges are getting stiff and it's all because I wasn't used much last winter. Before that, the family used to visit me almost every day, but now they're free from sniffles and colds. I reckon you can blame it on the celebrated Thatcher Meteor Warm Air Furnace. It helps to keep the family healthy by making every room warm and comfortable. Take it from me, medicine bills shrink when there's a Thatcher in the house."

The radiator of the Meteor permits of a long fire travel. This feature economizes on fuel and utilizes every heat unit. Write for illustrated booklet "Helpful Hints on Heating."

AN AUTOMOBILE EXHAUST HEATER

For All Motor Cars

BOVEY Striking Points of Superiority

It won't be long before Jack Frost and his cohorts will be scampering along with damp, chilly and cold weather. You motorists will begin to mournfully think of laying the old car up on account of unpleasant driving conditions — Keep the car running.

The use of an exhaust heater is not limited to closed cars. Any car with well fitting side curtains can be made as warm as toast on the coldest days.

There is only one cost, the first cost, to the heater as it makes use of exhaust gases which would otherwise be wasted. It does not cost a cent to operate the heater. The minute the motor is turned on the heat will be there.

Come in and look over the different styles and sizes and you will surely find one that will fit your car and for little money you can make winter driving a comfort.

CITY BUYS STOP AND GO TRAFFIC SIGNAL SYSTEM

Prim Warns Pedestrians to Be Governed by Traffic Signals

The automatic Stop and Go signal system which had been installed on approval at Onondaga and College ave. has met with the satisfaction of the city council and ordered purchased. The condition specified is that the company selling the signal furnish a Westinghouse or General Electric motor in place of the one now operating it.

Recently the lenses of the traffic lights which formerly were blank have been changed so as to flash the words "stop" and "go". But the words do not show plainly enough in the day time in the judgement of some of the city officials, and further changes may be made along these lines.

PEDESTRIANS STOP

Chief George T. Prim of the Appleton police department is very well satisfied with the system, but feels that pedestrians do not yet fully adapt themselves to the signals as they are flashed. When pedestrians cross a street opposite to the movement of vehicular traffic, they not only impede traffic, but subject themselves to danger. Thus far no accidents have occurred as the result of the carelessness of pedestrians, but motorists frequently are compelled to stop abruptly to avoid accidents.

STUDENTS WORK TO GET OUT VOTE ON NOV. 4

A large student vote on election day is the object of the Lawrence college Coolidge-Dawes club. Blanks for voting are being provided for out-of-town students. Attorney J. P. Frank is helping them to fill out the blanks and is administering the oath. A rally was held last week at Main hall at which several more members were secured by the club.

Flashes Out Of The Air

Radio reception Monday night, if anything, was worse than on Sunday night. Numerous radio fans declared they were unable to tune in a single station, while others said the only ones they could get was WCBF at Zion, Ill. The Zion concert was worth listening to, however.

Whether the disturbance in the air is an atmospheric condition or the result of a leaky electric light transformer somewhere in the city is a moot question which radio set owners are discussing. Probably when the weather becomes colder radio reception will improve.

Senator LaFollette's address in the State theatre at Schenectady, N. Y. will be radioed by WQY at 7 o'clock central time, Wednesday night. His son, Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., also is scheduled to give an address at the same theatre that evening.

A novelty radiocast has been announced by WOR, Newark, N. J., for Wednesday night. This station will radiocast the blast which will blow out the last few feet of the New York New Jersey tunnel under the Hudson river. A microphone will be stationed in the tunnel and President Coolidge is to press the button which will set off the explosion.

WEEH, Chicago, has announced that it has completed arrangements for broadcasting grand opera this season. The first broadcasting will be on Nov. 5, the opening night of the opera season.

KDKA and WCN are cooperating to radiocast an address by Charles Evan Hughes, secretary of state, who is to speak in the auditorium theatre in Chicago at 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

HONOR MEMORY OF GENERAL W. G. HAAN

Commander Keller of American Legion Pays Tribute to World War Officer

Military and legion officials all over the state and country have united in honoring the memory of General William G. Haan, formerly commander of the Thirty-Second division, who died Sunday night. Tribute was paid by prominent men in many states.

L. Hugo Keller, state commander of the American legion, declared that the death of the general removes a potent influence for good in the legion and that his loss will be seriously felt by World War veterans.

"The sudden death of General Haan has been a shock to every service man in the state of Wisconsin," Mr. Keller said in a formal statement. "He has been the idol not only of the Thirty-Second division which he commanded during the war, but to every man who served in the armed forces of the government. He was an ardent legionaire and his last days in Washington were spent in the interests of the legion. His passing leaves us with the memory of a gallant soldier, a brilliant officer, a loyal comrade and one of the highest type of citizens this Republic has ever known."

Once you start taking these tablets and losing your fatness, you will be happy again.

Cars Must Stop During Fire Runs

This is the ninth of a series of articles dealing with new traffic legislation in the city of Appleton. It covers the proper conduct of an autoist during a fire or police run or at the scene of a fire.)

Arrest of autoists who hamper the progress of the fire apparatus or the police car or ambulance, those who drive their cars so close to the scene of the fire or emergency as to interfere, is made a provision of the new traffic ordinance now in effect in this city.

Both fire and police drivers often have complained of the indifference of autoists who hear the sirens. Now they can demand the arrest of any person who does not drive to one side and STOP until all the apparatus has passed. They also can ask punishment of any driver whose machine is in the way at the scene of their work.

Here is the law concerning a fire or police run:

"Upon the approach of any fire apparatus, police patrol or ambulance, the motorman of any street car shall immediately stop his car and shall keep same stationary until such time as such apparatus has passed; and the driver of any wagon, buggy or similar vehicle or motor vehicle shall, upon approach of any apparatus above mentioned, immediately drive his vehicle as near as possible to the right hand curb and keep such vehicle stationary until such apparatus has passed."

Automobiles must not be parked close to the scene of a fire. The law makes this specific by declaring that all machines must be at least 800 feet away, which means at least one city block. Several instances lately have shown the need of this law, because drivers follow the apparatus and stop right next to the fire trucks. Firemen are hampered in moving their apparatus if necessary.

Car owners also must see that they

It also is unlawful for any person to drive a vehicle of any kind across a fire hose while laid along any street or alley. Exception is made when firemen have placed a bridge or jumper next to the hose for its protection as would be done during a long fire siege. The chief reason for this is that the weight of automobiles would exert extra pressure on the hose and possibly cause it to burst. Serious consequences thus might result.

For a progressive bank, we have old-fashioned ideas about some things. One is personal interest. Instead of the dollar-measured kind, you'll find us doing all we can for all those who come to us.

Another is courtesy. You'll find here, not the usual commercial courtesy, but a warmer, kindlier desire to make every one at home with us.

STEPHANI TAKES LEAD FOR YEAR IN CICERO TESTING

Herd Yields Him Approximate Profit of $100 a Cow in 12 Months

Arnold Stephani captured first herd honors in a year's testing in Cicero Black Creek Cow Testing association, according to the annual report of Milton F. Metzger, official tester. This is for the 12 months ending Oct. 20, 1924. The best record for an individual cow was that of one owned by Levern Brusewitz.

Mr. Stephani's herd of 21 grade Holstein cows gave an average of 7,352 pounds of milk and 201.5 of fat for each cow. He has a profit above feed cost of $99.03 for each cow.

Mr. Brusewitz gained the high cow record through a grade Guernsey giving 11,112 pounds of milk in a year and 500.8 pounds of fat. Her profit to her owner above feed cost was $153.32.

Second herd honors went to John O'Meara, whose cows averaged 7,907 pounds of milk or 256.4 pounds of fat. The profit was $99.23 on each cow.

Levern Brusewitz came into third place with his 27 registered and grade Guernseys with average production of 6,770 pounds of milk, 222.8 pounds of fat.

A grade Guernsey owned by E. C. Falk is second in individual production with 9,590 pounds of milk, 412.7 pounds of fat.

The Stephani, O'Meara, Brusewitz and Falk herds all exceeded production of 275 pounds of fat.

CABBAGE YIELD IS 12 TONS TO ACRE

Production Is 30 Per Cent Ahead of Last Year—Price Is $6 a Ton

BY W. F. WINSEY
Greenville—Schreiter Produce company finds that the quality of cabbage delivered to the storage plant of the company by growers is the best in years. The heads are of the right size and as hard as bullets.

The average yield, said L. A. Schreiter, is 12 tons to the acre but William Krause, Frank Diemer, Louis Knaack, Henry Hoh and Ferdinand Meyers will make a much better record than that.

After shipping 30 cars of early cabbage, the company began storing late cabbage on Oct. 20, and is now storing 150 tons daily. The capacity of the plant is 700 tons but the company expects to get 1,000 tons. Mr. Schreiter said that the yield of cabbage is 30 per cent greater than last year. The company is paying $5 a ton for late cabbage.

U. S. TESTS FOREST LANDS FOR GRAZING

McNeill, Miss.—Experiments are being made at the Coastal Plain experiment station here to determine whether cattle and trees can exist together.

This unique activity springs from a belief among foresters that there is a good grazing for beef stock on the hundreds of thousands of acres of cut-over pine woods land in this country. Such grazing, it is said, may not harm a fine growth of long-leaf pine and perhaps other pines. If fire protection is maintained.

To establish this as a fact, government foresters have established two large pastures. One is deliberately burned over, in winter, as some stockmen still advocate. The other is protected against burning.

"Both pastures are well supplied with longleaf pine seed trees," said one of the foresters. "and in the course of time it will be clearly apparent what the result of burning over is, whether grazing interferes with pin production and whether the new growth of pines lowers the value of the forage."

All Farmers Invited To Community Dinner

Getting acquainted with the business man of the city and finding out through personal contact that the man out on the farm is the purpose of the dinner which the chamber of commerce is giving for the farmers of Outagamie-co at 7 o'clock Monday evening, Nov. 3, at Elk hall. The building is located at Appleton and Lawrence-sts.

Invitations have been sent out to large numbers but the chamber of commerce knows it will not reach them all. A blank therefore is printed below which each farmer is asked to fill out to a place can be reserved for him at the dinner. No charge is made for the banquet and farmers, their wives and grown-up children are privileged to come.

This is the second community gathering of this kind and is expected to be even better than that of last year, bringing the men of city and farm together. One of the most prominent speakers of the middlewestern states, Burt Williams of Milwaukee, will be the principal personage taking part in the program. His subject is Tying the City and Country Together. Mr. Williams knows what he is talking about because he was a leader in the work Milwaukee now carries on for the benefit of its rural businessmen.

There will be plenty of program features of a lighter vein, including community singing. John Seaman Gurnes, former Appleton man who now is prominent at Minneapolis as a humorist, will sprinkle laughs through the program. The chairman of the county board, mayor of Appleton and president of the chamber of commerce will give short talks also.

All who will send or mail the blank below to Chamber of Commerce, Appleton, Wis., will be entitled to places at the banquet also.

What Your Neighbor Is Doing

(This column relates interesting things that are going on at the farms in this vicinity. Every farmer is invited to contribute items about his crops, herds, poultry or his farm life. Mail or telephone them to "Farm Editor.")

Shiocton—James Powers, expert cabbage grower who in years past has uniformly had an excellent crop, planted six acres of cabbage this season and got one ton for his work. To put diversified farming into practice Mr. Powers also planted one and one-half acres of pickles. His total receipts from the pickle crop were $20. City people think farmers are making money, said Mr. Powers. Sometimes they do, but on account of excessive rains and high water there was a poor season. But the chances are that what Mr. Powers lost in pickles and cabbage he will make up in the dairy business as he is also engaged in that.

Shiocton—Leo Kling, manager of O. C. Evans and company, cabbage buyers, started buying cabbage this week, and is getting 50 tons a day. He figures on getting a total of 500 tons. The cabbage offered comes from both high and flat land, the yield ranges from seven to eight tons to the acre, and he is paying $6 a ton. The demand for cabbage is dull.

Ellington—G. A. Barker had four acres of cabbage on high land and an acre of lowland. The latter field was a failure but the yield on the high land is ten tons to the acre.

Shiocton—C. A. Wilcox, representing the C. A. Kerr company, Chicago, cabbage buyers, said that the cabbage coming in is fancy stock. He is now getting 100 tons a day but ordinarily at this season his receipts are 200 tons. The acreage in the vicinity of Shiocton this year is as large as it was last year but the flat land cabbage was drowned out. A number of large cabbage growers of previous years have not delivered a ton of cabbage because they have none to deliver.

Liberty—E. R. Vanhorn had three acres of as good cabbage as one would wish to see but the field was destroyed by rains and high water to the extent that the yield from the entire field was only four tons. Six acres of corn filled his silo of 12 feet diameter to a height of only 9 feet. His clover hay crop, however, was excellent.

Shiocton—C. A. Wilcox, representing the C. A. Kerr company, Chicago, cabbage buyers, said that the cabbage coming in is fancy stock. He is now getting 100 tons a day but ordinarily at this season his receipts are 200 tons. The acreage in the vicinity of Shiocton this year is as large as it was last year but the flat land cabbage was drowned out. A number of large cabbage growers of previous years have not delivered a ton of cabbage because they have none to deliver.

Bovina—Len Van Stratten, loaded 25 tons of sugar beets on a car last week, the entire product of four acres of land. Mr. Van Stratten expects to get no more than 25 tons of cabbage from 12 acres. The yield, he says, amounts to nothing at all. It took a 12-acre field of corn to fill fifteen feet of his 12-foot silo. He is buying corn from neighbors to complete the filling. On the flat lands between Embarrass and Wolf rivers, said Mr. Van Stratten, many farmers have poorer crops than he has.

Maple Creek—Fred Baerwald lost 14 large hogs and a number of pigs a week ago and George Pribbenow lost 8 large hogs, three weeks ago, as a result of an attack of hog cholera.

Oncida—In three weeks from the time he began building operations, Patrick M. Garvey will have a new barn completed and ready for use, to

SATISFIED WITH SUGAR BEET CROP

Growers of County Find Yield as Good as Last Year—Loading Dumps Busy

BY W. F. WINSEY

Greenville—Beet growers in the territory of O. M. Slater, field man for the Menominee Sugar Beet company are busily engaged in hauling their crops to the Dale, Medina, Hortonville, Greenville and asylum stations. The growers near the rendering plant and Mackville stations will soon become active also.

Five cars have already been loaded at Dale, five at Medina, eight at Greenville, and thirty at the asylum. Three cars are being loaded daily at the asylum and the total is estimated by Mr. Slater at seventy cars, or twenty-five cars more than were loaded at the same point last year. The increase is due to a large gain in acreage.

While the beet crop was injured by the wet weather, the same as all other farm crops, Mr. Slater says that the yield in his territory is satisfactory for the season, the quality is excellent and the growers are satisfied. Some of the big yields are credited to the asylum and to Louis Roessler, Sr., Hortonville. The former got 45 tons from 5 acres and the latter 15 tons from one acre.

GOOD APPLE EXPORT

Smaller English and Canadian apple crops forbode a good export market of American apples. The English crop is estimated at 2,500,000 barrels as compared with 3,500,000 last year. The Canadian crop will be 3,302,000 barrels, against 4,460,000 last year.

Probable production of wheat in the northern hemisphere, outside of Russia, is estimated to be about 2,700,000,000 bushels this year against 3,000,000,000 last year. This estimate is based on official and unofficial forecasts from 28 countries.

EARLY FALL BEST TIME TO CULL OUT POOR EWES

Early fall is the best time to sort out and sell breeding ewes that fall below standard.

Disposing of the bad ewes and mating the others to good rams will rapidly improve the flock.

Conformation is the most important point to consider in culling, for two-thirds of the ewes' annual return is from the lamb she produces. Blockiness, level rump, a well-filled leg of mutton, well sprung ribs and a wide muzzle are the points to be sought in a desirable conformation. If a ewe shows a spoiled udder or broken mouth, she should be sold. Her wool producing ability depends on long fiber and lots of it to the square inch.

To the People Who Care About Home

The homes built today can be more comfortable, more proof against heat, cold and noise, than ever before. They can be so built that fuel bills will be so much less that to quote figures startles and amazes people who know only the old type of houses.

Yet the way to these better homes is simple. It is required only to build a true heat insulation into walls and roof.

True heat insulation is material that stops heat and cold equal to many times its thickness in common materials, one that delivers its full and best service as it is used on the job as well as in the laboratory.

Flax-li-num Proves Its Worth On The Job

Flax-li-num is an all flax felt, tough and durable. Guaranteed to outlast the building. Applied easily and quickly. Not flimsy, cannot tear. Not rigid, cannot warp or buckle. Equal in stopping heat to sixteen times its thickness in brick or twenty-seven times its thickness in concrete. Delivered to your job full one inch thick for the ceiling and one-half inch for the walls. The same thickness tested by all laboratories.

A Certificate of worth is given to every builder of Flax-li-num insulated houses. Ask to see this Certificate before you buy. It is your protection as well as that of the careful builder.

"THE INSULATION THAT ENDURES"

It is best to give the name of the firm or residence, and the name of the person speaking, when answering the telephone.

"Hello" Is Out of Date

"Hello" is a rather ungraceful little word when used to answer the telephone.

The accepted expression now used generally by particular people is to give the name of the firm or residence and the name of the person speaking. For example:

"Smith & Company, Jones speaking"

"Dr. Brown's office, Miss Smith speaking"

"Dawson's residence, Helen Dawson speaking"

This method eliminates the time-wasting, and hence money-losing, exchange of "Hello" and inquiry as to who is speaking.

Those who have adopted the modern practice agree that it is more courteous and more business-like.

Heiderer And Cawley Headline Promising Program At Armory G

Large Crowd from All Over Valley Expected to Follow Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Kaukauna Prelim Boys

TUESDAY'S CARD
Johnny Heiderer, Milwaukee vs. Jimmy Cawley, Chicago, ten rounds at 135 pounds.
Battling Herb, Oshkosh vs. Jake Lang, Oshkosh, six rounds at 130 pounds.
"Washie" Hendricks, Kaukauna, vs. Battling Beck, Fond du Lac, six rounds at 150 pounds.
Kid Knoke, Appleton, vs. Earl Rogers, Appleton, six rounds at 130 pounds.

Advance ticket sales for the Midwest Athletic association fight card scheduled for Armory G Tuesday night indicate a large attendance, with Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Kaukauna fans predominating. Four of the best fighters from these valley cities are included in the menu and supplement what is expected to be one of the fastest and most furious lightweight battles seen here for years. Johnny Heiderer and Jimmy Cawley headline the card. Earl Rogers, an Appleton boy who has been working hard and conscientiously at the game for several years, will fight a newcomer, also of this city, in the certain water which is scheduled for 8:30 P. M.

Both Cawley and Heiderer have been here for several days, putting the finishing touches on their training programs. Both look good. Cawley has the advantage of height and reach on Heiderer, but judging from work-outs, Heiderer is a shade faster than his lanky rival. The fact that Al Williams, Heiderer's manager, was willing to meet a $1,000 forfeit in support of his claims for his boy in a Milwaukee battle, speaks well for Johnny's ability. That he outpointed his man in that scrap is a further indication he has come back.

FROM FORTNIGHTLY STABLE
Cawley is from Leo Fortnigh's stable in Chicago, and Fortnigh will have personal charge of his boy when he goes into the battle Tuesday night. Fortnigh has a reputation for picking only good men and fast fighters for his stables, and if both the headliners live up to their reputations the first fight of the winter season is bound to benefit the game here.

Battling Herb and Jake Lang, both of Oshkosh, are too well known to valley fans to need comment. Each has a large following both in his home town and in the entire state and many of the fans are expected here to help their boy.

Hendricks of Kaukauna has fought several engagements here in recent years, and has won himself the support of many local enthusiasts by the eager way in which he boxes in, ready to take two to give one. Washie learned his stuff from Jack Zwick, the Kaukauna Skeet, and according to his backers in Kaukauna he is better than his mentor now. He will have a hard row to hoe when he stacks up against Battling Beck of Fond du Lac, but is confident he can put the Fondy lad to sleep.

Earl Rogers is known to all Appleton fight fans as a hardworking boy who deserves every chance he can get. He has acquired himself well in every one of his fights here and may be counted upon to give his best. "Kid Knoke" is the unknown quantity on the card. He is an Appleton boy who has fought on the Pacific coast with considerable success as a prelim fighter, but who wants to rise to greater heights.

NELSON HURLS DEFI AT VICTOR

Chicago Fight Manager Challenges Winner of Appleton Fight

Battling Jack Nelson, Chicago boxing manager, sport scribe and former welterweight star has his eye on the outcome of the Cawley-Heiderer scrap scheduled for Armory G Tuesday night. Nelson has a scraper under his wing, one Mickey Keest, formerly of St. Paul, whom he thinks able to beat either of the two principals on the Appleton card, and has issued a challenge to the winner to meet his man.

Nelson claims he has seen Cawley at work in his Chicago training quarters, and while he admits that Jimmy is some scraper, he says his battle can put it all over either him or Heiderer. Nelson brought Jimmy Keest here last year to meet Jack Zwick, and Austin made a fine showing. If Keest does his stuff as well, the winner of Tuesday's bout would let himself in for an interesting bout if he accepted the def.

HOTEL NORTHERN FIVE WILL MEET FONDY TEAM

Hotel Northern's crack Appleton bowling team, Thursday will invade Fond du Lac where they have scheduled a contest with one of the best fives of that city. Herbert Schulze and A. Jimes, manager of the Hotel Northern, drove to Fond du Lac to arrange the match. While there they hatched a series of games to test the alley with the following scores: Schulze—202, 178, 186, 192, 190, 178, 185. Total 1212.
Jimes—150, 193, 190, 180, 206, 152, 158. Total 1103.

FORMER PUPIL PITS SQUAD AGAINST HIS MENTOR OF ILLINOIS

Ingwerson Points Iowa Eleven for Battle With Zuppke's Huskies

By Associated Press
Chicago—A pupil is sharpening his football wits for use against his former teacher this week as Iowa prepares its attempt to batter Illinois from the western conference pinnacle. Burt Ingwerson, Iowa coach, owes much of his favorable training to Robert Zuppke, Illini coach, under whom he was a player and afterwards a freshman coach. In the latter capacity, Ingwerson has had opportunities to study "Red" Grange, the sensational Illinois back, and much of the Hawkeye practice this week has been the halting of Grange as his objective. Zuppke, back at Urbana, after scouting Iowa against Minnesota, is applying the results of his observations. Much work to strengthen the line is on the workout program. At Iowa City, search is under way for some reserve to fill the gap caused by injuries to Fleckstein, all-conference guard, whose shoulder was broken Saturday.

Chicago, another competitor of Illinois for the title, has its game with Illinois, Nov. 8, in mind in its workouts for Purdue this week end. Purdue already has been put out of the running by Ohio State.

Interest in preparations of other conference teams is lax. Michigan and Minnesota, meeting at Minneapolis, are hopeful of retrieving prestige lost to Illinois and Iowa respectively. Northwestern and Indiana, both beaten, have little at issue in the game at Evanston Saturday.

Ohio State, with a slim fighting chance at the title, has its game next week with Indiana as a practice ob- jective, this week's clash with Wooster being considered as an appetizer. Aside from the conference, Notre Dame's preparation for Georgia Tech, centered on development of substitutes for Captain Walsh and Stuhldreher, on the hospital list.

OLYMPIC ALLEYS BUILD SIX-CLUB PIN LEAGUE

Six teams met Monday night at the Olympic alleys here and organized the Olympic Alleys Bowling league with a schedule which will start Tuesday night when Cameron, Schultz and Ferrero's clothes clash in the first match. De Baufers Oil and State Lunch will bowl Thursday and the remaining two teams, Webers Knit and Valley Dairy Products start Friday.

Ohio State Has Defense For Grange

Chicago—While stop Grange is the slogan of every "Big Ten" football coach, few have been successful in turning the trick.

Coach Wilce of Ohio State has had more success in building up a defense for Grange than any other Western Conference mentor. In the all-important game at Ohio State last year, which Illinois won by the close score of 9 to 0, the exploits of Grange were mighty few and far between.

No doubt Wilce is banking on again upsetting the dope in the clash of his Ohio State team with Illinois. He believes that he can bottle up the Illinois star.

Nebraska is the only team that has played Illinois in the last two years that has prevented Grange from running wild and scoring one or more touchdowns.

The two games with Nebraska have been played on an early date and no doubt Grange was held back to a certain extent.

Another think, the heavy Nebraska line outchugged Illinois and made it difficult for Grange to get started.

GREEN BAY PROS DEFEAT MARINES

Green Bay — Outclassing the Marines at every stage of the game, the Green Bay Packers scored a 19 to 0 victory in a pro football league game here Sunday afternoon. The visitors were never within the 35-yard line of the Badger state championship.

With their forward pass attack working superbly the Packers swept through for two scores in the second period. Hendrian made both touchdowns and Buck kicked a goal. In the last quarter, Hearden, recruit halfback, grabbed a pass behind the goal line.

Novak and Norton, the Marines' stellar back, were stopped dead in their tracks by the Packers' mighty forward wall. Christianson was the luminary for the visitors, with Tierney also looking good. Dukes Duford, former Marquette star, made his debut with the Packers and showed lots of class.

The Packers played wide open football. Capt. Lambear was shooting the pigskin superbly while Hendrian, Voss, Murray, Basing, Mathys, Duford and Hearden pulled beautiful catches on the receiving end.

The lineup:
Green Bay: Murray, L. E.; Christianson, L. E.; Buck, L. E.; Dunning, L. T.; Woodin, L. G.; Kramer, Eberts, L. G.; Earps, Neiman, C.; Mangab, C.; Gardner, R. G.; Tierney, R. G.; Rosatti, R. T.; Scott, Earl, R. E.; Voss, R. E.; Puzler, R. E.; Mathys, Hendrian, O. B.; Hearden, C. E.; Basing, Hearden, L. H.

Marines: Novak, Norton, L. H.; Lambear, R. H.; Cleve, Novak, T. H.; Hendrian, Duford, F. B.; Simon, F. B.

New York—Perry Haughton, famous former coach of the Harvard football team and coach at Columbia university for 1923-1924, died at St. Luke hospital late Monday, after being stricken on Baker field.

The coach was stricken while directing Monday's practice of his Columbia team. Haughton while at Harvard made a name for himself as one of the greatest coaches football has produced. He evolved what became known as the Haughton system—a backfield that was built around a triple threat man. In such men as Marion and Brickley, he had stars who, until they were well into their plays, confounded the enemy completely, for they could, from a kick formation, punt, pass or run with the ball and do either perfectly.

Going to Columbia, Haughton gave that school a football team such as it had not had for years, raising it to a point where it could vie with the Big Three and other leading eastern teams for prestige.

LAWRENCE SQUAD POINTS FOR HARD CARROLL CONTEST

Overconfidence and Effects of Iowa Game Account for Slump at Ripon

Monday afternoon saw the Lawrence grid squads back in action on the drill field with their entire attention directed at the Carroll game scheduled for Appleton Saturday afternoon. The Waukesha college is regarded as the chief rival of the Blue and white in the state, and after the poor showing of the Lawrentians in Saturday's tilt at Ripon the prospects are not particularly bright.

Coach Mark Catlin attributed the slump of his gridsters Saturday to the effects of their Iowa contest and to overconfidence. Until Ripon scored its first touchdown on a Lawrence fumble, the Blues looked like easy victors. Then the Riponites bucked up and went into the game with redoubled pep, while even a tied score failed to wake up the Blues.

They know what to expect Saturday, however, and overconfidence will not be one of their failings when they buck Carroll. Catlin pointed out their weak spots before starting them on their new drill schedule Monday afternoon and then put them through their usual workout. Passing tactics probably will play an important role in the Carroll game, and considerable time is being devoted to this phase of the game this week.

New York—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, announced he would sue the New York State Athletic commission for $250,000 damages on the charge that he was prevented from obtaining a license and boxing in New York.

Red Dunn's Brother Is Grid Hope

Milwaukee—Athletic prowess usual is runs in families. There are the Dunn's for instance. Red, one of the best quarterbacks and punters ever developed at Marquette university—and an all-American, by the way—has a younger brother whose too gives promise of being as great as the sensational boot of the auburn haired kicker. The youngster, whose name is Cornelius, is a freshman at Marquette and plays end. He is a big, snapping fellow, weighs more than Red, and is a natural kicker who can shoot the long spirals nearly as far as his brother did in his palmy days. The football experts say that with a year's practice his kicking will eclipse that of Joe's. A third brother, Johnnie, is learning things up at quarterback on the Marquette high eleven and looms as a future varsity star.

COLUMBUS SQUAD LEADS RACE FOR SOCCER HONORS

Lincoln and First Ward Fight Thursday for Chance at Championship

The most recent win of the champion was scored at the expense of Lincoln, 6 to 0, Monday afternoon. Walter Rhode, goal tender of the Columbus squad, played his position perfectly, warding off danger time after time without a falter. Harold Deinke, playing left forward, and Lawrence Zimmerman, his running mate at right forward, also starred for Columbus.

Meanwhile the First Ward copped, 6 to 2, from the Fifth, in a hard battle. The scores all were made in the first half after which both squads rightened up.

Columbus, Lincoln and First Ward Thursday afternoon open the championship series, with the Lincoln and First Ward squads battling for a chance to play the leaders for the title.

Memphis—Gene Tunney, American lightweight champion, knocked out Harry Foley, Hot Springs, Ark., in the first round of a scheduled eight round bout.

Labord Wins Tennis Title From Nesbit

Lawrence Tennis championship changed hands over the weekend when Bob Nesbit who had won it twice in succession, dropped three straight sets to LaBord, a newcomer this year, who defeated him, 6-3, 6-2, 4-3. The new titleholder is an Oshkosh man, who has been playing on the city team of the Sawdust city for several years. He is a valuable addition to the Lawrence net squad, and with several other Freshmen promises to put his school well to the front in intercollegiate events.

Kraz, another frosh from Louisville, Ky., defeated Kilpinger of the Lawrence faculty in three straight sets, the first of a series scheduled between faculty members and the stars of the student body.

Ashman Hurt In Lawrence Caging Drill

Roger Ashman, center on last year's Lawrence college basketball team, was severely injured when he fractured three bones in his left foot Saturday, Oct. 18, and will be out of the pre-season practice for at least a month, according to A. C. Denny, director of athletics.

Ashman, who was ineligible under the freshman ruling until the middle of last season, stepped in when Clarence Morrison, regular center, was declared ineligible and played a stellar game for the remainder of a hard schedule.

Buffalo, N. Y. — Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo middleweight, defeated Norm Genet, Akron, in six rounds.

"The Nervous Wreck"

By E. J. Rath
Copyright 1924 by NEA Service Inc.

"Shall we try it?" she yawned. "Get in."

He turned the filly over at a sharp angle and they left the main road. The new route began climbing a rise immediately, then dipped into a gulch. The Wreck found himself forced to drive with care, for there were sharp turns every few yards.

"There are lots of these old roads in this part of the country," commented Sally. "Most of them lead to mines that never panned out."

After some ten minutes of slow, but thrilling travel, she suggested a halt.

"This ought to be far enough," she said. "There are two ridges between us and the main road."

The Wreck stopped the car. The abrupt silencing of the motor left them in a stillness that was fairly startling. The place was dark, too, for there was a heavy growth of trees all about them, and the spreading light in the eastern sky did not reach them. As they sat for a minute trying to get the feel of their environment, Sally's hand crept over and sought the Wreck's arm. She was not nervous, exactly, but the touch of him reassured her.

"Then her fingers clutched him with such fierceness, and she could feel his muscles tense under the grip."

"Did you hear that?" he whispered.

He had heard. It was the soft neigh of a horse.

She sprang to her feet, steadying herself against his shoulder, and her eyes began searching in the gloom. An instant later she bent her head.

"There's a little fire off through the trees—to the right," she said, in a low voice. "We have run into somebody's camp."

"Let's go," said the Wreck.

He was climbing out of the car, when she clutched him again.

"Wait! I can hear somebody coming. You'll never be able to turn around in this place."

He, too, could hear footsteps off in the brush. Reaching forward to the dash, he switched off the lights.

"Turn them on!" commanded Sally. "We're caught anyhow, and I'm not going to be pounced on in the dark."

He turned the lights on again, and they waited. The footsteps were cautious, but they were still approaching.

"Put the gun away," she whispered, as she saw him fumbling with it. "It's not loaded and you'll only get us into trouble. You can't run that kind of a bluff on Bob Wells, anyhow."

"Who else? Why, it's almost certain. Oh, of all the luck! We've run plump into him! You let me do the talking, Henry Williams."

The footsteps were nearer.

CHAPTER XIX

Just as Sally's fingers were digging into his arm until he was ready to growl a protest, a voice came from the bushes beside the car: "You better get 'em right up in the air—quick."

Sally raised her hands promptly, and the Wreck followed suit, after she commanded him.

Into the back glare of the headlights stepped a man who carried a rifle that looked ready for work.

"One of 'em's a woman," he called, evidently addressing somebody behind him.

There was no answer from the rear. It seemed that the matter of conversation had left wholly in his hands.

"We'll take the peddler," said the man with the rifle. "Any relation to the sheriff?"

"Plenty of relation," said Sally. Promptly. "We want to see him."

There was a chuckle by way of answer.

"Sure, you're lookin' for the sheriff?" he inquired. "I kind of figure he's asleep and don't want to be disturbed."

"You lead me to Bob Wells," said Sally. "I'm going to step right out of this car, and if you start anything with that gun, you'll wish you'd never been born."

The Wreck followed her and they stood beside the filly, with a rifle muzzle not more than a yard distant from them.

"I'll talk to Bob Wells and nobody else," declared Sally, firmly.

"Are you speakin' serious?"

"I certainly am. And I'd advise you not to argue about it."

He muttered something that she could not hear, yet it conveyed the idea that his mind was in doubt. The Wreck remained passive during the colloquy. He did not need Sally's caution. Whatever might be required of him, he felt that the time was not yet. Besides, he was sure that Sally had the right idea. There was no need for dealing with subordinate when Bob Wells was on the ground. He was quite willing to face the sheriff.

"Lead me to the sheriff," said Sally.

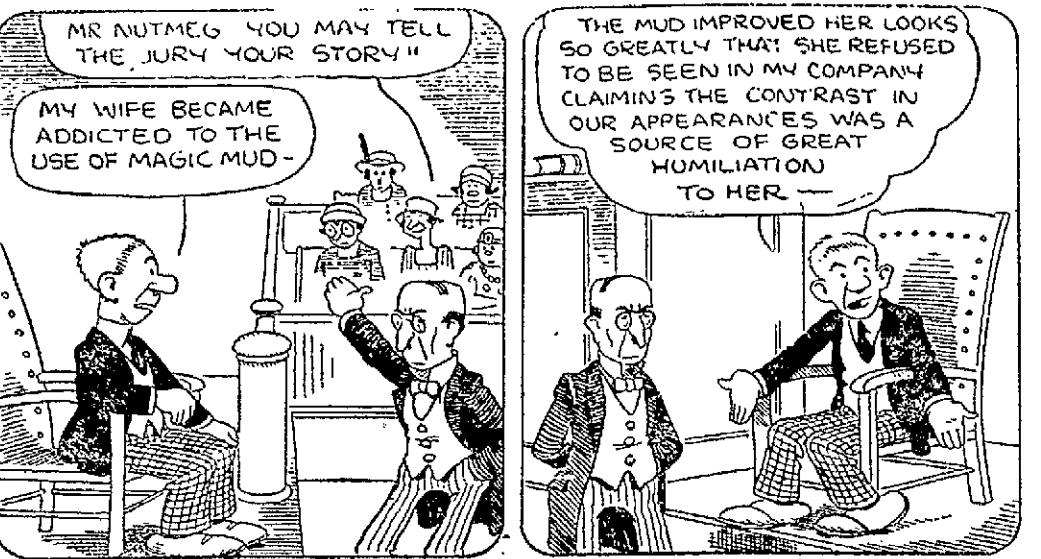

There was a suppressed laugh from the figure that held the rifle. "I'll lead you," he said. "Come to think of it, I figure you'd better lead your lives. You just head 'em that campfire and I'll keep walking behind you. And don't forget I'm carrying a gun. Not that it makes any difference to me, but it might make a heap of difference to you."

Sally set off in the lead, stumbling through the brush in the direction of the camp. She was angry enough to shoot what she wanted to say to Bob Wells, but she would not spoil the dramatic effect of a face-to-face meeting. The Wreck followed in her wake, grim, yet somewhat out of countenance.

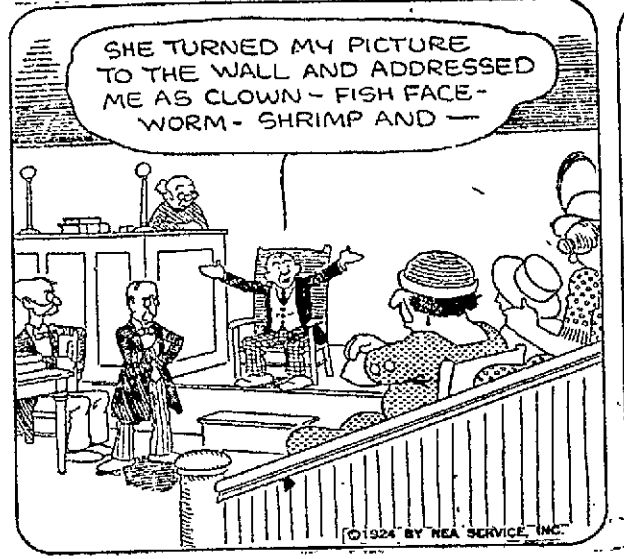

It was a very small, disorderly and informal sort of camp. Sally discovered as soon as she put foot within the glow of dying embers. There was no tent; there was no sign of an establishment that contained even ordinary comforts. But there were

BERLIN HOUSE OWNERS MEND DAMAGE OF WAR

By Associated Press
Berlin—Scars of the 1918 revolution and other reminders of the war and its aftermath, reflected in neglected public buildings as well as private dwellings and apartment houses in Berlin, are to be blotted out this summer.

Throughout Berlin thousands of workmen have begun the task of repairing buildings which have been neglected eight or ten years, and which have suffered visibly from the effects of the weather. The work has been taken up particularly in the residential sections where a great many landlords for years have made no endeavor to keep up the appearance of their property because of the lack of income from their holdings.

When You Buy or Build that New Home - make the man you buy from give you a warranty of the quality of the plumbing, backed up by a reputable master plumber.

And why not? A reputable merchant will always stand squarely back of his wares.

Yet too many persons, when they buy a house, take the worth of the plumbing for granted. Seem to think that if there is any—it is probably all right! Yet nothing in the home is more important to health than plumbing!

You have a right to demand that the plumbing in a house you buy is in first class condition. If it is not, insist that it must be put in proper condition before you close the deal. Repairs may be needed for "unseen" plumbing—the pipes, etc., which are buried in the ground, or hidden from sight by walls and floors. Such repairs are the costliest of all!

When you buy a home, be as particular about the plumbing as you are about the general desirability of the property. Without good plumbing, a dwelling is both unsafe and unpleasant to live in. Insist upon a warranty of the quality of the plumbing in the home you buy!
